

Data privacy statement

The protection of your personal data is a matter of particular concern to us. We shall therefore process your data exclusively on the basis of the applicable legal regulations. The following data privacy statement is intended to inform you about the most important aspects of data processing with regard to our website.

Contact

In the case that you contact us via our website form or by e-mail, we shall store the data you provide for the purpose of dealing with your request and for subsequent enquiries. The data shall not be passed on without your consent.

Enquiries concerning conferences

Your information, including the personal data from our contact forms, shall be transferred to us, processed and stored. Should you no longer interact with us, your data shall be deleted after an appropriate time limit. The data shall be forwarded exclusively to the resp. congress organiser. Your consent is the legal basis for processing your personal data. With your enquiry, you authorise us to send you information regarding this and/or similar congresses. You may revoke your consent at any time, e.g., by emailing us at unsubscribe@media.co.at.

Server log files

The provider of the sites automatically assesses and saves information in so-called server log files which your browser automatically transfers to us. This information includes:

- the host name of the accessing computer
- the time of the server request
- the IP address

These data shall not be merged with other data sources. We reserve the right to review the data subsequently should we become aware of specific indications of unlawful use. The data shall be deleted after no more than six months.

Your rights

You are basically entitled to the right to obtain information, correction, deletion, restriction, data portability, revocation and objection. You may lodge a complaint with the supervisory authority should you believe that the processing of your data is in violation of data privacy law or that your claims pertaining to data privacy law are in any way infringed upon. The Datenschutzbehörde (Austrian Data Protection Authority) is the competent institution in Austria.
